Panel proposed by the S.T.E.P. Project

Summary of the Webinar

The S.T.E.P. (Supporting distance Training and Education in Prison) project is an ongoing comparative research on the use of digital technology and distance learning in different European countries (Italy, Portugal, Spain, Netherlands, and France). The panelist will present the state of digital education in their respective countries and share with the public the progress of this collaborative project (data collected, steps and expected developments).
